Wanted at Oakland.

Last night about 7 o'clock, Chief Bennett received a telegram from Sheriff Brown, of Oakland, telling him to look out for one Fred Horn, who is wanted there for grand larceny. A description of the man was given and Officer Michaelis was assigned to watch the Baltimore & Ohio trains. He did so and captured him just as he was stepping off at the Baltimore & Ohio station. He was taken to the police headquarters and searched, but only a small sum of money was found on him. Born says he was in the harness business with a man in Oakland. The other man had the money but he (Born) had the experience. As it is now, it is said to be just the other way. Born has the money and the other fellow the sad experience.

THE STATE FAIR.

The Grounds are a Bee Hive of Activity This Week.

EXHIBITORS ARE PREPARING

To Make what will be the Best Showing Ever Made in the Main Building—Educational Booth Being Rebuilt in Fine Style—Some of the Machinery Exhibits are Arriving this Week—The Live Stock Coming Friday.

When an Intelligencer reporter made the circuit of the state fair grounds on the island yesterday afternoon wheel-back, he was surprised at the activity that is already in evidence there. Under the supervision of Secretary George Hook, who has established his headquarters at the grounds, a large number of employees are busy at work getting everything in good shape for the fair.

Entries for the races, to be run on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons, closed yesterday, but the list cannot be published until the mails have brought in the many entries that were started just before the date of closing. The entries are more numerous and of a higher class than those received for any previous state fair, and the lovers of harness racing can rest assured of four days of excellent sport next week.

In the main building, carpenters are now at work building new booths for the exhibitors, who will be more numerous than usual this year. The booth being arranged for the educational exhibit will be the finest of the lot. Architecturally it is a gem, and will be fitted with the Caldwell-Peterson metal ceiling and walls of beautiful design.

Miss Anna Reymann and a committee of ladies will be at the main building to-day, Thursday and Friday to receive entries in the children's and art departments. It is expected that the exhibits in these departments will be unusually fine and numerous.

The live stock that will be exhibited is expected to begin arriving at the grounds on Friday morning and from then on until Monday will come in an almost uninterrupted stream. The race horses will arrive on Saturday from the meetings being held this week in eastern Ohio, western Pennsylvania and western New York. The machinery exhibits are already arriving and a good representation of exhibitors is assured. The track is being worked daily and will be in record breaking shape for the races that begin next Tuesday. The horsemen unite in saying that the Wheeling track is one of the best half mile race courses in the country, and on this occasion it will be worked to a point near perfection.

ABOUT PEOPLE

Strangers in the City and Wheeling Folks Abroad.

Prof. John M. Birch, principal of the Linsly Institute, has arrived home from his vacation trip. He and some member of the faculty of the Linsly Institute will be at the school building from 10 to 12 o'clock a. m. daily until the opening of the school on September 13th, to meet those who may desire to enter students for next year. Ensign John R. Y. Blakely, U. S. N., the new military instructor, will arrive in the city from Washington to-day.

Mrs. Josephine Bird returned yesterday from a ten days' trip to Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

Mrs. H. G. Bills is home from an extended visit to relatives and friends at Grantsville, Md.

Miss Kate Wright, of Chapline street, has returned from a trip to the mountains of western Maryland.

Dr. and Mrs. John L. Dickey left yesterday for Mandare, North Dakota, by the lakes to Duluth. Dr. Dickey expects to be home by September 15th.

Miss Bertha Stalger, Miss Margaret Ferguson and Miss Estella Fredricks, of Allegheny, Pa., returned home yesterday after spending two weeks with friends on the island.

Jesse Barton, son of State Labor Commissioner Barton, leaves to-day for Webster Springs, this state, where he will recuperate. He has been a victim of nervous prostration.

Mr. Delano Luce, the district passenger agent of the Great Northern railway, was in this city yesterday. Mr. Luce now has his headquarters at No. 405 Fifth avenue, Pittsburgh. He is also the general agent for the Northern Steamship Company.

Hon. Sep. Hall, of New Martinsville, and James L. Hawley, of this city, for the past ten days have been at Niagara Falls, where they grabbed about all the real estate bargains in sight. These gentlemen are of the opinion that Niagara Falls possesses natural and artificial advantages which will make it eventually the most important manufacturing city of the world. They are firm and enthusiastic in their belief in the great future before Niagara City, produced by the wonderful electric power developments now in process.

Dunlap Hat Opening.

I will open Wednesday, September 1, a full line of Dunlap's latest fall blocks, of Silk, Derby and Soft hats. Call and see the only and correct shapes.

NOTICE TO PARENTS.

School Children often injure their eyes for life by parents neglecting to attend to them. Crossed eyes, headaches and many other troubles come from weak eyes strained while at school. If your child has weak eyes attend to them at once while the child is young and the eyes can be strengthened. Perhaps it may only require glasses for a short time.

We are specialist in children's eye troubles. Bring your child to us. No charge for consultation or examination.

PROF. H. SIEFT,

THE EYE SPECIALIST, Corner Main and Eleventh Streets.

THE HUB—CLOTHIERS AND FURNISHERS.

Six Years Ago

The first spark of success was struck on the flint of honest purpose—kindling an ambition that is realized now in the greatest preparations for the greatest season the greatest store in the state has ever known. Experience has paved the way—and double the stock we have ever shown—double the qualities we have ever had to offer—double the facilities we've ever provided will greet you—the triumph of The Hub's Modern Methods and The Hub's Progressive Policies.

We're going to fight cheapness with goodness—exaggeration with truth—misrepresentation with plain facts—and when you review the unmistakable evidence of perfection that fills every department to overflowing—and improve the opportunities that await your coming—then will your appreciation burst into a shout of praise that will be hushed only when the time shall have brought us to still greater achievements.
